MUCH CARE EXERCISED IN TABULATION OF VOTE

In answer to a number of inquiries concerning the vote tabulation in the Courier and merchants "Miss Bristol" contest:
The tabulation appearing each day is from 24 to 48 hours behind the ballot casting. This is made necessary because of the desire to exercise the greatest care to prevent error. The ballots are collected from each of the 15 voting places. They are then sorted, listed and tabulated and each tabulation checked before they are published.

Yesterday the Courier was flooded with inquiries asking why the vote of the respective candidates was not larger than that recorded.

Interest is increasing daily in the Bristol Courier-Merchants Yellowstone National Park contest now in its second week. Today a number of the candidates show huge gains in their total votes and the position of the candidates' standing show some changes.

The contest, of course, still has until July 27th to run and many things can happen between now and then. The one thing which every candidate must keep in mind is to have her friends ask the merchants for the ballots. It is the ballots which will decide who is to take this wonderful 10-day trip free of expense.

A new leader goes into first place today and that honor is now held by Miss Carmela Giagnacova who has a total of 19,400 votes. She gained 10,400 since yesterday's tabulation.

Miss Ida Mancuso goes into second position due to the fact that she picked up 17,000 votes since yesterday.

Another candidate to make a substantial gain is Miss Marie Wurster, Croydon. Miss Wurster polled 7,800 votes since the last tabulation appeared and she now has a total of 14,000 votes.

Standing of candidates appears elsewhere in today's issue.

Congress Getting Weary

Washington, D. C., June 27.—With an all summer session virtually certain, and which may drag into the Fall, a weary and bewildered Congress today "dug in" for a protracted battle over President Roosevelt's tax program. Three days' confusion and revolt ended with an agreement that the House Ways and Means Committee initiate a bill to carry out the President's so-called "share the wealth" plan. Refusal by Democrats on this committee to permit the Senate to write the bill, and wide-spread attacks on the plan to jam such an important bill through Congress within five days, brought the abrupt change of plans.

Chairman Doughter, Democrat, of North Carolina, of the House Committee, planned to open hearings next week on the President's plan. Simultaneous hearings will be held by the State Finance Committee. The country was promised a chance to be heard on the program of high inheritance and gift taxes, boost in income taxes on big incomes and a graduated corporation income tax.

While administration leaders pledged speed in putting the program through, serious obstacles confronted them. The situation was complicated by the leaders' uncertainty over the exact desires of the President.

To Sign New Liquor Law

Harrisburg, June 27.—Except for a few formalities, Governor George H.
Earle today was ready to sign the new bars and liquor law which restores bars, permits club sales at all hours, including Sundays, outlaws unfair
trade practices and further harasses the bootlegger. The new act gives the liquor board great enforcing powers and becomes effective immediately upon signing by the Governor.
The Liquor Control Board was prepared to open at once, 250 one-man stores in smaller communities throughout the state to increase its facilities for dispensing alcoholics.
The Board is given discretionary power to fix opening and closing hours of stores which will open later in proportion to districts.

SCOUTS TOLD BY PAST PRESIDENT STOCKHAM THAT HE KNOWS OF NO OTHER GROUPS BETTER ABLE TO GIVE SUCH GREAT ASSISTANCE TO THE HUMAN RACE

"God Places Between Himself
and Human Needs—
You"

AT BUCCOU SERVICE

C. W. Seamans Directs Cub-
bers' Training Week-End Camp

"God places between Himself and human needs—you," said Past President Thomas B. Stockham, during the Chapel Service at Buccou Camps on Sunday. The gathering was the concluding event of the Scouters and Cubbers' Week-end Training Camp for the leaders of the Bucks County Council. State Assemblyman Stockham continued, "I don't know of many other groups that are in a position of giving more help to the Human Race, than you Scouters and Cubbers. Scouting gives us the responsibility of guiding the boy and with him being God fearing, good citizens, loyal to Scouting, and the proper development of self esteem to be able to meet the problems of today. Give our boys self-reliance in a day when it is badly needed."

Chairman Thomas Ross of the Activities Committee spoke on the topic of "The Measure of a Unit and its Leader." Mr. Ross was of the opinion that the effect of a man's leadership on any boy or group of boys would be shown by the attitude of the boys
when away from the leader. "The best friendship in the world would not be of any value unless the individual took the guidance into his everyday life," concluded Mr. Ross. The relationships with the community, church, school,
and home were discussed by County Boy Scout Commissioner William Burgess. Drawing on his years of community work, and veteran service as a Scouter, Mr. Burgess was able to have the leaders assembled on the Good Times Hall porch realize the spreading responsibility for anyone occupying leadership. Mr. Burgess said,
"The Community is part of our life,
we will be as happy in it, as we contribute to the service for others through the church, school, home, and Scouting."

C. Walter Seamans, Associate National Cub Director of the Boy Scouts of America, for the nine to eleven year old boy program, was in charge of the Cubbers' Training Week-end Camp which held its meetings on the porch of the Forest View Camp site. Helpful subject matter was presented, and discussed, including "The Nature of the Cub," "The Achievement Program," "Den Meetings," "Den Chieftainships," "Pack Meetings," "Cub Leader's Round Table," and "The Neighborhood Field for Developing Leadership." Cubmaster Joseph Kish, Andalusia, arranged an exhibit of many projects completed by the Cubs
of his Pack.

TWO YOUTHS DROWN SWIMMING IN PITS

Both Attended Grammar
School in Falls
Township

SERVICES FOR ONE HERE

MORRISVILLE, June 27.—Two students in the Fallsington grammar school were drowned yesterday within an hour of each other while swimming.
Both boys were swimming in gravel pits which had filled with water.

The victims:
Lewis B. Edwards, Jr., 12, son of
Mr. and Mrs. Lewis B. Edwards, Old Ferry Road.

Samuel Gizzi, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Michael Gizzi, 13, King's Farm, Penn's Manor.

Gizzi was swimming in the Warner Lake near Tullytown with the aid of an air tube at about 5.30 o'clock. The tube apparently failed while he was trying to swim out to a float in the lake, and he went to the bottom before his nearest companion, John Miller, 11, of Penn's Manor, could reach him.

The Union Fire Company was summoned, and aided by Police Chief Albert Cooper and Trooper Peter Riley, they got the boy out with grappling hooks. Efforts to revive the victim with an inhalator were futile. Dr. H.
D. Webb, of Bristol, pronounced the boy dead.

Others swimming with him at the time were Clifford Elwood, 13, of 43
Park avenue, Morrisville, and Michael Matteo, of Penn's Manor.

The Edwards boy, a Negro, was apparently the victim of cramps when he went down while swimming in another Warner lake on the Bristol Pike at 4.30 o'clock. Police were unable to learn the names of his companions, one of whom pulled him out of the lake to the shore. Chief Cooper, Patrolman Butcavage and the Union Company also made an attempt to revive the boy with an inhalator. When he seemed to be responding to the treatment, the hook and ladder was sent to bring Dr. Victor B. Elin, of Morrisville. When the physician arrived, however, he found the boy dead.

The bodies of both boys were taken to the morgue and Coroner John Sweeney, of Doylestown, notified.

Besides his parents, Gizzi is survived by three brothers, Ralph, Augustus and Michael, Jr., and two sisters, Anna and Sarah. The funeral will be held from his parents' home Saturday morning at 8 o'clock. Solemn requiem high mass will be celebrated at 9.30 at St. Ann's R. C. Church, Bristol. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Philadelphia.

Funeral arrangements for the Edwards boy have not been completed.

PROPHECIES AND WAR PLANS

Almost 60 years ago King Leopold of Belgium summoned his geographic conference of explorers and commercial interests to "open to civilization the only part of the globe where it has not yet penetrated, to pierce the darkness which envelops whole populations," and so began the exploitation of the Dark Continent. Leopold's smug stroke for civilization was estimated by Sir Henry Johnson to have netted him $20,000,000, a very neat sum today, a much neater sum in the late seventies and early eighties.

What King Leopold started, the other governments of Europe were quick to finish. By 1885 the race for African territorial spoils was on. A few years later England, France, Germany and other European powers, the cream of Western civilization in the Eastern hemisphere, had divided among themselves all of Africa except Abyssinia and Liberia.

And now Italy, feeling apparently that she needs more territory for colonies, would finish the job. Even as the Italo-Abyssinian conciliation commission was holding its first meeting in Milan the first contingent of the Italian Sabaudia division was embarking at Cagliari for East Africa. It was the third regular army division to be dispatched by the fascist government to what many believe will be the next war front.

More than eight years ago, Evans Lewin, secretary of the Royal Colonies Institute of London, predicted that Italy would undertake territorial expansion in Africa and added that because of the "parallel movement in Germany there can be little doubt that the clash of European interests in Africa will assume before the end of the next decade a more ugly appearance than it has at present." Today's plans at Rome and Berlin—Germany seeks restoration of the African and other colonies which she lost by the Versailles treaty—give that prophecy a point that may well prick European statesmen to the quick. Japan as yet has no opponent as she proceeds to cut off choice pieces of Chinese territory for herself. But in Africa, adroit carving indeed will be required if claiming jockeying is to be avoided. Western nations are civilized, but they are sensitive about territory—seized or inherited. It makes no difference.

The Milan conference may bring a peace pact, of course, but it appears to be the opinion of most observers that the return of Abyssinia's dry season will bring the beginning of a new war. The situation is a challenge to the common sense of Europe and of the world at large. It becomes an even bigger challenge as the Italian press throws warts at London and these taunts get answered in Commons.

Speaking of total eclipses, what ever did become of Alfalfa Bill?

Clean Out Kidney Poisons

Wash Out Your 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes. If kidneys don't pass 3 pints a day and get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters may become clogged with poisonous waste and the danger of acid poisoning is greatly increased. Bladder passages are difficult, which often smart and burn like scalding water and cause discomfort.

This acid condition, brought about by poor kidney functions is a danger signal and may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

Most people watch their bowels which contain only 27 feet of intestines but neglect the kidneys which contain 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters. If these tubes or filters become clogged with poisons, it may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't run any risk. Make sure your kidneys empty 3 pints a day.

Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, an old prescription, which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

WHOSE WIFE? A CYRUS K. MANTEL MURDER MYSTERY

by CLADYS SHAW ERSKINE AND IVAN FIRTH

CHAPTER XXXII

Quickly then the usual routine had taken place—the body had been removed to an undertaking establishment in the village to await official autopsy and investigation. Then the police detective and Cyrus K. had gone over the house, once again questioning all guests.

In the bedroom that had been assigned to Vane it was discovered that his bed was undisturbed. A bottle of chloroform partially empty, was found in the snow of the grounds as if it had been tossed there from the terrace. There were no marks on this bottle as the wet snow had washed them off.

Cyrus K. had walked all the way around the big, arched, terrace twice, and had taken careful note of the placement of the different rooms. He had observed that the room occupied by Roger Thornley was around the corner, beyond the turret sitting-room where Renton was to have waited for Betty. Also, he found this room in some disorder—the remnants of a yellow telegram were torn into bits. The only thing he was able to piece together of it read: "Tenyo Kish—Kaisha." This he slipped in his pocket, knowing that it would mean nothing to the local police, if indeed they noticed it at all, and feeling that it strengthened a clue he intended to follow.

There had been an empty bottle of whiskey on the floor near the waste basket as though it had been shied there by an unsteady hand. The whole room reeked of the recent heavy imbibing of whiskey, and Thornley's evening clothes were tossed in a hasty heap on the disarranged bed. In contrast to this disarray, his other clothing, his hat, etc., were hung in perfect order in the closet. His toilet things were immaculate on the dresser.

Cyrus K. had studied the room for a long time.

He had also stood for quite a while in Wilbur Renton's room. And there a peculiar thing had struck him. Even as the Police Lieutenant was saying: "Nothing here to interest us, Mr. Mantel," he had noticed it. Contrary to the arrangement in all the other rooms, in this one there was no writing desk, and none of the necessities with which to write a letter.

Thinking back over Renton's glib statement of his actions, he puzzled over this fact, and made a mental note of it, but made no comment.

Milbanks had shut himself in his own room, after seeing the sad procession go out over the snow-covered garden that bore from him all that remained of his young bride. He had done only one thing after that. Steadily he had walked into the music-room and with his own hands had extinguished all the gay lights on the shining Christmas tree. When it stood dark and sombre, in the shaded room, he had stooped, and picked up one of the tissue-wrapped packages, marked "Schuyler from Donetta," and another, "Donetta from Schuyler," and holding these carefully, and closely, he had gone slowly upstairs, and the closing of his door shut him away from the household and his guests.

Cyrus K. had left the authorities questioning the frightened servants. He had driven swiftly to town, and now sat reviewing the happenings he had just been through.

His first act upon returning to town had been to telephone Ingles, to tell him exactly what had happened, with the result that he had counted on from the beginning.

Ingles had gone to Mineola and arranged for the transportation of Vane to the New York Tombs, as New York asserted prior right, Vane being technically under their jurisdiction, out on bail, now re-called.

Mantel rushed arrangements so that Vane would have to stand trial for the murder of his wife. Then, if acquitted, he could be arraigned on the second charge.

This Ingles had accomplished with the greatest speed possible. Although he was shocked beyond words at the news Cyrus K. gave him, still he did not wish his friend to run the risk of third degree methods as allegedly practised by strange police.

Cyrus K. smiled whimsically, though somewhat grimly, as he thought that here they were, in apparently the same place as they had started.

He was sorry about Betty, but she would come back to him, and all their gay companionship would be resumed. They had often quarrelled, but always one or the other managed to patch it up. He watched the telephone expectantly. She would ring any moment now.

He drew the locked book toward him, took the key from his pocket and unlocked it, turning directly to the page titled "Possible Suspects," carefully read what he had written there, and beneath the name "Isobel Vane" he wrote "Roger Thornley," and underscored it. He then turned to "Deductions," thought a moment, then wrote: "Who is the real murderer of Donetta Dane Milbanks?" "Where is Millie Thornley?" "What has Gerry Gordon got to do with all this tangle?" He then closed and locked the book.

As he laid it once more at the side of his desk the phone rang. He smiled and picked it up.

"Hello, Betty," he said. "Glad to hear from you, my dear."

"Uncle Cyrus," her voice was breathless. "I'm coming right over

Hymns were led at Chapel by Neighborhood Commissioner William L. Schofield, Morrisville; the Prayer was given by Neighborhood Commissioner Friend E. Sheerer, Siles, and the Scripture was read by Deputy Neighborhood Commissioner David Neill of Bristol.

The various troop leaders of the different Buecon Troop Camp Sites formed associations and elected a Chairman for each of them to represent them on the Council Camp Committee. Chef Andy Michie of New Britain, and Assistant Bill Schofield of Morrisville, stizzled tender delicious steaks over the fire that were "to a King's taste." Attending the Week-end Camp were: Lewis Hartman, Joseph Kish and Jesse Wendkos, of Andalusia; Robert Downing, John Johnson, Joseph Mountney, David Neill, Lawrence McCoy, Horace Prevost, Walter W. Pitkonka, Herbert Pettit, Ralph Sealford, and Maurice Udkie, of Bristol; William Amick, A. H. Haenchen, and Alvin Marshall, of Cornwells; Otto Grupp, Henry Roberts, George Smith, A. B. Schofield, Thomas B. Stockham, and Burtis C. Tomlinson, of Morrisville; Howard Boehret, and Andrew Michie, of New Britain; Ralph Moyer, Clarence Souder, and Lester Vold, of Perkase; O. Troop Committeeman Maurice Udkie, of Bristol; Scoutmaster O. Kenneth Fretz, of Quakertown, and Assistant Scoutmaster Kenneth Minninger, of Sellersville. The roofing paper was laid by Troop Committeeman Alvin Marshall and Neighborhood Commissioner William Amick, of Cornwells. A triple bunk for leaders, the stove, partition, windows, and doorways were installed.

government will become a great bureaucracy and said that there was proof of this in the acres of buildings down at Washington filled with people to regulate agriculture, manufacture, income tax and all down along the line.

The tax bill of President Roosevelt was characterized as one of the dangerous rocks toward which we are heading. The President called it a readjustment of the social structure and gave nothing of the rates or his plans in detail.

There are three kinds of government which have never been inflicted on this country, and which we do not want, according to the speaker:

Socialism.

Fasism—which is socialistic and more dictatorial.

Communism—which is worse than all the others. "We see it in Russia where it is worse than the rule of the old czars."

"GOSSIPING" BY RADIO

MELBOURNE — (INS) — Women have found a new diversion here—"gossiping" by radio. Many of the homes in the outback—or "open spaces"—of Australia are equipped with small wireless transmitters, primarily for emergency—in case the "flying doctor" was required. But now the lonely housewives of settlers have found another use for it. They can exchange the news of the day with any of their "neighbors"—within a 300-mile radius.

Milwaukee—and not Detroit, is the location of the world's largest complete automobile body-building plant, the Seaman Body Corporation. A five-story factory with 1,500,000 square feet of floor space under one roof, it contains all the machinery necessary to convert raw steel into finished bodies for automobiles.

Although the Milwaukee plant is a division of the Nash Motors Company, with all of its facilities devoted exclusively to the manufacture of bodies for Nash and LaFayette cars, it is owned and operated by two brothers, Harold and Irving Seaman, who have been engaged in building automobile bodies since 1909.

Until a few years ago the Seaman Body Corporation built bodies of the composite type. In two years time the entire plant has been remodeled and equipped to produce perhaps the most advanced type of body yet developed—the all-steel, one-piece body with steel floor and seamless steel used on the newly announced Nash "400."

With the specifications for this new Nash calling for radically different methods of all-steel construction, in which the top as well as all pillars, panels, doors and floor were to be of steel, Seamen engineers found it necessary to design and build equipment capable of producing these bodies in volume. One of the machines developed completes a flash weld 104 inches long in ten seconds, the biggest single welding operation performed in the industry.

CONSTIPATED?

You Can Feel Like A New Person
In Less Than 14 Days By Eating
Prun-O-Wheat Bread Regularly

Many of our friends have said to us "We want to try a loaf of your new laxative bread."

We have told them—just as we are now telling you—eat this new bread occasionally for its fine flavor, just as you would eat any other good bread. BUT... if you want to benefit by its natural laxative properties... you must EAT IT REGULARLY... a few slices at every meal! If you do this faithfully... you should notice a marvelous improvement in the regularity of bodily functions within 14 days if you are troubled with common constipation.

PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD is not "spiked" with cathartic

drugs or medicines. It is a natural food... and a mighty tasty one—at that... which should tone up your intestinal tract and help restore it to normal, unless you have a chronic condition which should be treated only by a physician. Its gentle regulative action is provided by a perfectly natural combination of flaked wheat and concentrated prune juice.

TRY THIS 14-DAY TEST

So we urge you and every member of your family to eat a slice or two of PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD with each meal. Find out for yourself how easy it is to restore that feeling of vigor, energy, healthy energy! Your grocer has PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD. Give it a real trial... start today!

Scouts Told of Worth Of Their Assistance

"Scout Advancement and Specialization," Scoutmaster Clarence Souder, Perkase, "The Play Method of Scout Advancement," and Scoutmaster Horace C. Prevost, Bristol, "Ceremonies in the Program." Songs between the presentations, and during the meals were led by Assistant Scoutmaster Howard Boehret, New Britain.

Scout Executive William F. Livermore directed the Week-end Training Camp, Sunday morning, a tour of all the Troop Camp Sites: Stockade, Mountain View, Forest View, Doylestown Kiwanis Handicrafters, Camp Lookout, Scout Camp, Adirondack, and Waterfront, was taken with Mr. Livermore. The plans for each site were discussed, and the story of the development of the camp property was related.

Hymns were led at Chapel by Neighborhood Commissioner William L. Schofield, Morrisville; the Prayer was given by Neighborhood Commissioner Friend E. Sheerer, Siles, and the Scripture was read by Deputy Neighborhood Commissioner David Neill of Bristol.

The various troop leaders of the different Buccoo Troop Camp Sites formed associations and elected a Chairman for each of them to represent them on the Council Camp Committee. District Commissioner Herbert Pettit, Bristol, was elected for the Camp Lookout; Neighborhood Commissioner Lewis Fetherolf, Milford, for Forest View; Chairman of Doylestown No. 2 Troop Committee Robert Dippy for Mountain View; Neighborhood Commissioner A. B. Stiles, Croydon, for Handicrafters; Scoutmaster Ronald Swain, Edgely, for the Scout Camp, and Assistant Scoutmaster Burtis C. Tomlinson, Morrisville, for the Stockade. The Waterfront will select their Chairman at a later date.

The Side Degree of the Training Week-end was performed on Saturday evening with a Degree Team of Neighborhood Commissioner Friend W. Sheerer, Neighborhood Commissioner A. B. Stiles of Croydon, and Cubmaster Joseph Kish of Andalusia. It was impossible to initiate all of the forty-seven men. Robert Downing, Lewis Fetherolf, Robert Dippy, Burtis C. Tomlinson, Howard Boehret, Otto Grupp, Clyde Seigle, and William Adams were selected as the ones to "trod the hot sands." They performed for the amusement of the others. Sakima O. Kenneth Fretz of the Camp Honor Brotherhood, the Order of the Arrow, conducted the Calling Out Ceremony for Honor Campers with the assistance of William Carlin, Howard Boehret, and Kenneth Minninger.

It was a problem to satisfy the hearty appetites by the vast quantities of food soon had everybody filled, and sighing with "Gosh, I didn't know I ate so much." Chef Andy Michie of New Britain, and Assistant Bill Schofield of Morrisville, sizzled tender delicious steaks over the fire that were "to a King's taste." Gallons of fruit juice were tastefully mixed by Abe Stiles of Croydon. The Carlin Brothers, Bill and George, of Chalfont, handled the commissary problems.

Attending the Week-end Camp were: Lewis Hartman, Joseph Kish and Jesse Wendkos, of Andalusia; Robert Downing, John Johnson, Joseph Mountain, David Neill, Lawrence McCoy, Horace Prevost, Walter W. Fitzonka, Herbert Pettit, Ralph Schaffey, and Maurice Updike, of Bristol; William Amick, A. H. Haenchen, and Alvin Marshall, of Cornwall; Otto Grupp, Henry Roberts, George Smith, A. B. Stiles, and Ludwig Tregl, of Croydon; Robert Dippy, and Thomas Ross, of Doylestown; Ronald Swain, of Edgely; Harold D. R. Crumrine, Horace P. Townsend, and James Townsend, of Langhorne; Lewis Fetherolf, and Lynn Strouse, of Milford; John Bone, Harry Flagg, William McMullen, Leroy Nixon, and Charles Wiedenhafer, of Newtown; Jack Burgess, William Burgess, William L. Schofield, Thomas B. Stockham, and Burtis C. Tomlinson, of Morrisville; Howard Boehret, and Andrew Michie, of New Britain; Ralph Moyer, Clarence Souder, and Lester Vold, of Perkase; O. Kenneth Fretz, of Quakertown; William Adams, George Godown, Lawrence Miller, George Saunders, Clyde Seigle, and Harry Weibel, of Rigelsville; Kenneth Minninger, of Sellersville; Walter J. Baumgard, and Friend Sheerer, of Siles; C. Foster Jones, of Washington Crossing; and H. Donald Clemens, of Yardley.

The roof of Camp Lookout mess hall was completed over the week-end at Buccoo by District Commissioner Herbert A. Pettit, Chairman of Institutional Committee John Johnson, and Troop Committeeman Maurice Updike, of Bristol; Scoutmaster O. Kenneth Fretz, of Quakertown, and Assistant Scoutmaster Kenneth Minninger, of Sellersville. The roofing paper was laid by Troop Committeeman Alvin Marshall and Neighborhood Commissioner William Amick, of Cornwall. A triple bunk for leaders, the stove, partition, windows, and doorways were installed.

Chairman of Troop Committee Lewis Hartman, Treasurer Jesse Wendkos, and Scouts of Andalusia, completed the Upper Deck of the Waterfront Camp Ship. The two sides and upper hatch of the ship are to be built in. When the changes are completed the "Ship" will house eighteen Scouts and two leaders.

Assistant Scoutmaster Ronald Wilkes and his father, George Wilkes, of Chalfont, completed the roof of Rover Rest.

Many troops are sending groups to Buccoo for construction work on Thursday.

government will become a great bureaucracy and said that there was proof of this in the acres of buildings down at Washington filled with people to regulate agriculture, manufacture, income tax and all down along the line.

The tax bill of President Roosevelt was characterized as one of the dangerous rocks toward which we are heading. The President called it a readjustment of the social structure and gave nothing of the rates or his plans in detail.

There are three kinds of government which have never been inflicted on this country, and which we do not want, according to the speaker:

Socialism.

Pasimism—which is socialistic and more dictatorial.

Communism—which is worse than all the others. "We see it in Russia where it is worse than the rule of the old czars."

MOTHER GRADUATES

MILTON, Mass. — (INS) — One is never too old to learn. Mrs. Joseph Schneider, mother of a 20-year-old daughter, and a son, 7 received her master's degree from the Portia Law School and will join her husband as a practicing attorney.

"GOSSIPING" BY RADIO

MELBOURNE — (INS) — Women have found a new diversion here—"gossiping" by radio. Many of the homes in the outback—or "open spaces"—of Australia are equipped with small wireless transmitters, primarily for emergency—in case the "flying doctor" was required. But now the lonely housewives of settlers have found another use for it. They can exchange the news of the day with any of their "neighbors"—within a 300-mile radius.

World's Largest, Complete Plant Builds Nash Bodies

Milwaukee—and not Detroit, is the location of the world's largest complete automobile body-building plant, the Seaman Body Corporation. A five-story factory with 1,500,000 square feet of floor space under one roof, it contains all the machinery necessary to convert raw steel into finished bodies for automobiles.

Although the Milwaukee plant is a division of the Nash Motors Company, with all its facilities devoted exclusively to the manufacture of bodies for Nash and LaFayette cars, it is owned and operated by two brothers, Harold and Irving Seaman, who have been engaged in building automobile bodies since 1909.

Until a few years ago the Seaman Body Corporation built bodies of the composite type. In two years time the entire plant has been remodeled and equipped to produce perhaps the most advanced type of body yet developed—the all-steel, one-piece body with steel floor and seamless steel used on the newly announced Nash "400."

With the specifications for this new Nash calling for radically different methods of all-steel construction, in which the top as well as all pillars, panels, doors and floor were to be of steel, Seamen engineers found it necessary to design and build equipment capable of producing these bodies in volume. One of the machines developed completes a flash weld 104 inches long in ten seconds, the biggest single welding operation performed in the industry.

CONSTIPATED?

You Can Feel Like A New Person In Less Than 14 Days By Eating PRUN-O-WHEAT Bread Regularly

We have told them—just as we are now telling you—eat this new bread occasionally for its fine flavor, just as you would eat any other good bread. BUT... if you want to benefit by its natural laxative properties... you must EAT IT REGULARLY... a few slices at every meal! If you do this faithfully... you should notice a marvelous improvement in the regularity of bodily functions within 14 days if you are troubled with common constipation.

drugs or medicines. It is a natural food... and a mighty food—at that... which should tone up your intestinal tract and help restore it to normal, unless you have a chronic condition which should be treated only by a physician. Its gentle regulative action is provided by a perfectly natural combination of flaked wheat and concentrated prune juice.

TRY THIS 14-DAY TEST

So we urge you and every member of your family to eat a slice or two of PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD with each meal. Find out for yourself how easy it is to restore that feeling of vigorous, healthy energy! Your grocer has PRUN-O-WHEAT BREAD. Give it a real trial... start today!

POND A. C. TAKES GAME FROM THE NO-NAMES

Wednesday afternoon on Leedom's field the Pond A. C. nosed out the NoNames, 6-5. The NoNames were ahead until the sixth inning when Shackleton walked both "Rocco" Indelicato and "Johnny" Monachello and Arclesse blasted a pitch into right center, driving both men in. Bobbie Shemely allowed only 2 hits but was given poor support. Shackleton allowed only four hits but was wild walking eight men. This defeat sinks the NoNames deeper into the cellar of the league.

Seven Years Ago Today—

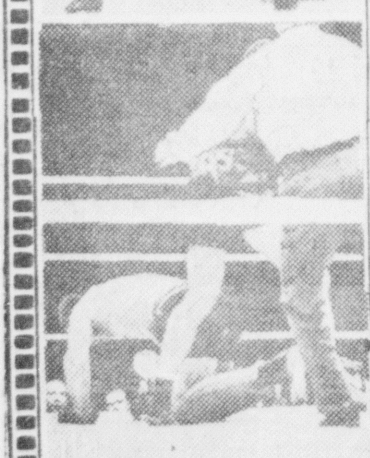

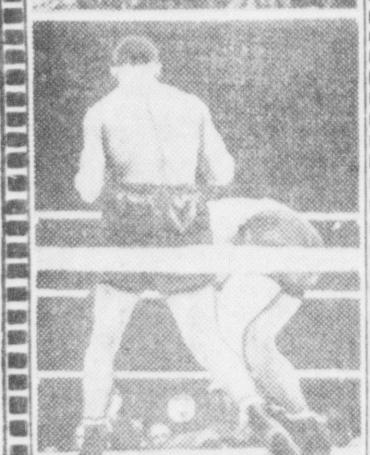

"Lefty" Rodgers was too generous with his passes on St. Ann's field as the St. Ann's nine trounced the Casey's, 11-5, in a Bristol Twilight League match. Rodgers walked seven batters and hit one. In the third inning, St. Ann's scored five runs with but one base hit. "Chuckie" Connors led the batsmen for the evening, connecting for two singles in three official trips to the plate. "Mike" DeRisi was the winning hurler.

In the Circuit Clout Circus

By BURNLEY

Two of the most interesting figures in the current home run race are Bob Johnson, the Cherokee-Swede of the Athletics, and Joe Moore, gaunt Irishman of the Giants.

Johnson and Moore are among the leading contenders for the circuit clout crowns in their respective leagues, and oddly enough, neither of them looks like a home run hitter when swinging at the plate.

Johnson, for instance, does not appear to take a vicious clout at the ball, yet he drives it with a force that astounds observers and makes opposing outfielders grind their teeth in helpless rage. Jimmy Fox is supposed to be the most powerful right-handed hitter of all time, and double-x James, with his powerful wrists and forearms, boasts of one of the most vicious batting swings in the game.

Nevertheless, Philadelphia observers say that the easy-swinging Cherokee Bob gets almost as much distance in his drives as the burly Jimmy, and the fact remains that he has outdistanced Fox in home-run awaiting this year.

Johnson is hitting like a demon this year, and may win the batting title as well as the home run crown if he keeps up the pace.

Little Joe Moore, the Giants' safety-pin outfielder, is as thin as a ghost and looks very frail and anemic, yet you will find his name up among the leaders in the National League home run derby. Where the emaciated Irishman gets the power in his drives is another baseball mystery. In 1933, Joe didn't hit a single home run, but this year he has changed his batting stance and is hitting 'em over the fences as a result.

This paradox among ball players is the most unathletic-looking guy you can imagine, but what a player! As Casey Stengel once said of Moore: "He looks sad, but you can't feel sorry for him because he can do everything—hit, run, field and throw."

DAVE ENNIS FANS TEN; ALLOWS 3 HITS

Dave Ennis fanned ten batters and allowed but three hits last night on Leedom's field as the Hibernians white-washed the St. Ann's team, 5-0, in a Bristol Twilight League contest. The Hibs' victory enabled them to gain a full game on the "Saints" in the fight to vacate the cellar position in the circuit.

Only one of the three bingles made by the Purple and Gold was clean. Aveilla made a Texas-Leaguer to left field in the sixth. The hit credited to Angelo was made when the ball rebounded off Dougherty's glove while the latter was trying to field the pill. A hard grounder to Antonelli which took a bad hop was the other hit, given to Pico. Ennis was so invincible that only one other batsman reached first and that was Pico when he was hit with a pitched ball in the sixth.

The winners made five hits off the combined hurling of "Spike" Scordia and "Snake" Whyno. Whyno pitched the last two innings and allowed but one batter to reach base and that was the result of an error by Angelo who dropped the third strike on Stake. Scordia walked a batter while Whyno did not issue a pass.

The Hibernians pushed over two runs in the first on a hit by Roe, McGinley's sacrifice, a walk, balk, outfield fly and an error by Tamburello. In the next frame another tally was registered when "Nizgie" Brescia doubled to center and scored on Clay's hit to right. In the fourth, the Hibs accounted for two more runs. Antonelli singled to center. Brescia whiffed. DiTanna tapped along the first base line and reached first safely when Scordia fumbled. Clay fled to right. Antonelli going to third. Roe's second hit of the fracas counted both Antonelli and DiTanna. McGinley was a strike-out victim.

Tonight at Newportville, Tullytown A. A. will attempt to gain ground on the idle Cubans by beating the Newport Road Men's Club.
